These appointments fall under Class I of appointments and a degree is the minimum qualification for the same. The above G.O. of 3.11.1932 does not therefore seem to exist as far as it relates to the qualification prescribed for appointment of Sub Inspectors of Police.

These special provisions regard the number or proportion to be filled up by promotion, by recruitment, in the different ranks of the Police executive staff may perhaps remain unaltered, even after the issue of the Revised Rules, but subject to the point of qualns for recruits being determined under the general provisions of the Revised Rules.

RETURNED WITH COMPLIMENTS

1. Recruitment to and qualification for Daffedars - No remarks

2. Recruitment to and qualification for Sub Inspectorate - would prefer a degree qualification being fixed for Sub Inspector's appointments. It is always open to Government to make an exception in favour of any particularly good or deserving man.

3. Promotions - To Inspectorate

In the new Police Manual sent up to Government for approval, no proportion of recruitment by promotion and direct appointment is fixed. At present, no direct appointment is made to the Inspectorate, vacancies in that grade being filled by promotions from Sub Inspectorate. To provide for any case of direct appointment, if that should be found necessary at any time, direct recruitment has been mentioned as one of the methods of recruitment. No proportion may be fixed, lest it might become obligatory to recruit that particular proportion directly.

4. Promotion to Sub Inspectorate -

A degree qulification may be demanded for direct appointments. For promotions this should not be necessary.

5. Jamedars and Daffedars - No remarks.
